We are Losing Our Constitution, and Our Country

by Dr. William Scott Magill

The United States of America came into existence unlike any other nation in history—through the ratification of a document drafted by representatives of “We the People.”

Brilliant solutions to the trials and errors of countless prior generations were embodied in that brief document. The rule of law replaced the rule of men. All citizens were equal before that law, regardless of their wealth or status. Rights would be protected but NOT granted by government, in recognition of their source as divine, not human. Government officials would serve by the will of the people, not by inheritance or privilege. Government powers were strictly limited to those listed (enumerated) in that document, and further limited by dividing them among three separate-but-equal branches, each with power to check the other two.

Ratification was followed by two centuries of more trial and error in the continual struggle “to form a more perfect union” by living up to those principles. During that time, America—with all its flaws—became the freest, most prosperous on earth, and the greatest force for good of any nation in history.

But today, all of these many blessings we inherited—our Constitution, our individual liberty, our culture, our nation itself—are threatened with extinction as the rule of law is thrown aside for the rule of emotionalism.

That threat is not from any external force—no foreign power could ever destroy our nation—but entirely from within. If our constitutional republic is to survive, we must be willing to confront our opponents and utterly defeat them in the arena of ideas. Failure to do so is to be forever disgraced as the generation that betrayed its children and lost the nation.

For this reason, the Champions of Liberty™ program has been instituted, equipping military veterans to fulfill their lifelong oath to “support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic.”

After a careful screening process, Champions of Liberty undergo an intensive, one-week course in Washington, D.C. on America’s great heritage, history, and founding principles of government. They will receive advanced training on how to defend and advance these values in writing, speaking, debating, and media interviews. Participants will also be steeped in current major issues and threats to our constitutional republic, and how to resist and defeat those opponents with civility and confidence. This intense initial training is followed up with a national network fostering continual communication, education, discussion, debate, feedback, recruitment, and opportunities to advance our mission.

The training is uniquely tailored for veterans who wish to become leaders in returning Constitutional Fidelity within their community or teachers/professors; as well as those in media, community leadership, and other nation-shaping roles—anything that will empower Champions of Liberty to succeed in the greatest rescue mission in history, saving our nation!

The academic launch of this historical program, where America’s veterans will learn the truth of our founding from our founding documents, will take place in the only venue of its kind in the world – where those precious documents reside - The National Archives McGowan Theater. With a strong understanding of the true America, these developing Champions of Liberty will move to the hands-on portion of learning to win. As Morton Blackwell once affirmed, “Being right, in the sense of being correct is not sufficient to win. ... You must learn how to win.”

They will learn how to win under the tutelage of Leadership Institute which has trained nearly 200,000 conservative activists, from college students to seasoned politicians. Here our veterans will be equipped with the tools, and training essential, to fighting with the sword of truth and win on today’s Invisible battlefield of ideas for America’s heart and soul.

America has the greatest military on earth--the finest warriors, most advanced equipment, and best training; so too are her veterans. As a result, they can and will achieve any mission they're given, and they will prevail in the greatest rescue mission in history - rescuing America by restoring our Constitutional Republic and founding values, by restoring Constitutional Fidelity. Defeat is not an option!
